Faculty of Engineering Undergraduate scholarships

For 2012 entry

Top class entry scholarships

For UK and EU students

In recognition of academic excellence, you will be awarded a one-off payment of £1,000 if you start an undergraduate honours degree programme within the Faculty of Engineering* in 2012 with A level grades of AAA (equivalent performance in alternative qualifications such as IB or BTEC will also be considered).

In order to qualify for the scholarship, you will need to have made The University of Nottingham your first (firm) choice in the UCAS application process.

If you are progressing from the Faculty of Engineering's foundation year with a pass mark of 80 per cent or more, you are also eligible for the £1,000 award.

Students progressing from a foundation year at any other institution within the HEU category, with a high IB score (or equivalent) may also be eligible for this award. Each case will be considered individually against The University of Nottingham guidelines.

The scholarship will be paid automatically, you do not need to apply.

Notes on eligibility

- Only available to students who make The University of Nottingham their first (firm) choice at the appropriate time within the UCAS application process
- Based on the three A levels in your offer from UCAS
- Students registering on degree programmes jointly offered by Faculties outside engineering are not eligible
- Only students who commence their studies in the Faculty of Engineering (UK) in 2012 are eligible for the scholarship
  - direct entry students commencing their studies in the Faculty of Engineering in 2012 will receive the 2012 entry scholarship
  - students deferring their entry to the Faculty of Engineering to 2013 will be eligible for the 2013 entry scholarship (terms may be different from those in 2012).

Dean of Engineering's outstanding student prize

For all undergraduate students

Continued academic excellence will be rewarded. The top students in the Faculty of Engineering* progressing on their course will be awarded the Dean of Engineering's outstanding student prize. This includes a certificate in recognition of their achievement and £100 prize.

International engineering scholarships

For international students

If you are an international student starting an undergraduate honours degree programme within the Faculty of Engineering* in 2012, and meet the eligibility criteria outlined below, you will be awarded £1,500.

In order to qualify for the scholarship, you will need to have made The University of Nottingham your first (firm) choice in the UCAS application process.

If you receive the award in your first year (2012), you will also be entitled to £1,500 in your 2nd, 3rd and 4th years. This is conditional upon you passing the previous year with an overall average of 55 per cent or above, and having satisfactory attendance during the previous year as determined by the head of department.

You are also entitled to the award if you transfer from an engineering degree programme at The University of Nottingham, Malaysia and start your studies in Nottingham (UK).

The scholarship will be paid automatically, you do not need to apply.
