The University of Nottingham seeks to ensure, as far as is reasonably practicable, the safety and security of University staff, students, visitors, contractors, grounds, buildings and their contents. To assist in achieving this, the University deploys CCTV cameras, of varying types, around the sites in pursuance of the prevention, detection and investigation of crime and other incidents, internal disciplinary matters and the monitoring and enforcement of traffic related matters.

The Head of Security has overall responsibility for CCTV installations, recording and monitoring. The viewing of live and recorded images is restricted to persons authorised by the Head of Security. The principles of the Data Protection Act 1998 and the CCTV Code of Practice are observed to ensure compliance with the legal framework under which personal details relating to individuals is processed.

The University currently has 382 CCTV installations:
