

Project Title: Terrorism Country Profiles

Dates: March 2008 – July 2009

Core Staff: Daniel Moeckli

Unit: Counter Terrorism and Human Rights

Student Research Assistance: Javier Argomaniz, Abdul Latif Shakoor

Project Summary

The project mapped key states' anti-terrorism laws and capacities and ratification of international anti-terrorism and human rights instruments. The country profiles have been made available on the HRLC website.

Objectives

The project aimed to map key states' anti-terrorism laws and capacities and ratification of relevant human rights instruments, which would provide a useful resource for future research.

Content

Compilation of comprehensive country profiles. The profiles give an overview of the respective state's anti-terrorism laws and capacities, ratification of international anti-terrorism and human rights instruments, and further useful information and resources, including links to all the relevant sources.

Outcomes

Compilation of country profiles, available on the HRLC website.
