

Bridge Condition Monitoring and Fault Diagnostics

Background

Bridges are continuously deteriorating due to aging, traffic load and environmental effects. As a result, condition monitoring and fault detection strategies are vital to guarantee the safety and availability of the railway network.

Objective

Remote structural health monitoring and fault detection by using Bayesian Belief Network and machine-learning methods.

