Instructions for Contributors

1. Papers must be in English.
2. Manuscripts should be around 7000 words. Longer manuscripts will be accepted for review following consultation with the Managing Editor.
3. While we happily accept formal papers, authors should carefully reflect on the use of formulae: ‘The burden of proof is with the person who wants to use it’. That is, any formula must provide an insight that cannot be gained otherwise or be of an advantage as a device of stenography. A formula as such does not indicate special competence of its user.
4. The first page of the manuscript should contain the title, the name(s) and institutional affiliation(s) and contact details of the author(s), a list of key words, and an abstract of not more than 150 words. For multiple authored papers, the corresponding author should be clearly indicated.

Submissions are to be sent electronically (preferably in PDF format) to the Managing Editor:

Submission of a paper will be held to imply that it contains original unpublished work and is not being submitted for publication elsewhere.

Detailed instructions for the preparation of accepted manuscripts will be sent to the author with the letter of acceptance.
