

PALA 2021

Call for Papers

<https://palaconference.wordpress.com>

PALA 2021 is open for proposals for papers and posters on any aspect of poetics and linguistics that would be of interest to PALA members. PALA is an international academic association for those who work in stylistics, poetics, and associated fields of language and linguistics. Specific interests of PALA members include, for example, narratology, literariness, literary linguistics, stylistics and pedagogy, critical discourse analysis, gender and writing, literary translation studies, linguistics and philosophy, metaphor, cognition, cognitive poetics, metafiction, pragmatics, text linguistics, corpus stylistics, and other related areas.

Papers: 20 minutes duration in a 30 minute session, to allow discussion.

Presented using Microsoft Teams.

Powerpoints and handouts to be submitted in advance (by 1 July)

Our preferred pattern of presentation is for you to present your paper live via Teams. You control the screen-sharing to show any slides or visual material. Please send us any material in advance so we can take over if there is a technical glitch. We will send all participants an easy guide to using Teams for your presentation.

Posters: Posters should be in the form of an animated video of maximum 2 minutes length.

You can record the poster in powerpoint and export as a movie.

Posters will be available in a devoted room online for the duration of the conference.

There will be a session set aside for poster presenters to answer questions.

Conference:	7-9 July 2021
Paper proposals deadline:	15 April
Posters proposals deadline:	17 May
Acceptance of papers notified by:	1 May

Send proposals as an email attachment (max 300 words) to:

pala@nottingham.ac.uk