“This is an amazing program that I would recommend. I was able to develop the skills I’d hoped for including Cultural Intelligence and leadership. We got access to interesting organizations and heard from inspirational guest speakers who had been through leadership journeys, and were able to network with people from diverse backgrounds.”

Hui Liu, Student, Harvard University
“I have identified more of my own core and flex as in development of my Cultural Intelligence. I have got a clearer picture of how leadership should be and a goal for me to be a leader after understanding and expressing myself boldly.”

Chan Yin Man, Student, University of Hong Kong

“Incredibly valuable experience, very eye opening and inspiring and creating a great pool of knowledge and a network that will surely strive in the future driven by our mutual goals and mentality for change.”

Jonna Thede, Student, King’s College London

Why should you take part?

- Develop your leadership skills and grow Cultural Intelligence (the ability to cross boundaries and thrive in multiple cultures)
- Adapt and thrive in new environments
- Build new networks locally and globally with fellow students, contributors and leading employers
- Learn and practice the skills required to quickly understand and navigate complexity

What happens?

You will explore a major world challenge “How to smart cities ensure they are inclusive?” from a local perspective. You will meet visionary leaders from global businesses, governments and international not-for-profit organizations. This will help you and your fellow participants understand the challenge and find creative ideas to solve it.

Best of all, you won’t be alone; you will build international connections and make new friends amongst this diverse group of participants. In addition, the solutions and knowledge you build will be passed to participants on other Common Purpose programmes around the world.

Who could you meet?

During the four days, you will direct your own learning, speaking to leaders from and visiting organizations such as:

- Pathfinders
- Justice Centre
- Hong Kong Planning Department
- Cyberport
- Hong Kong Red Cross
- Smarty City Hong Kong

Where do we run Global Leader Experiences?

Common Purpose runs GLEs in cities around the world, where large numbers of the world’s talent convene to study, including London, New York, São Paulo, Johannesburg, Hong Kong, Singapore and Melbourne.

A global network

Everyone who finishes a Common Purpose programme, anywhere in the world, joins the Common Purpose 360 network - a 70,000 strong, growing, global community of our alumni with exceptional diversity and a huge range of skills, interests and leadership experiences.

Some will be very senior, experienced leaders across the public, private and NGO sectors, others will be emerging leaders and some will be fellow students just finishing university. This breadth and depth makes the network unique.

When and where?

3 – 6 July 2018
Hong Kong

How much?
