Global graduate recruitment

Postgraduate Careers

Nottingham University Business School attracts high-calibre students that can benefit your business

Recruit new talent

Our students join us from the UK and across the globe, specialising in a range of disciplines at masters degree level, including accounting, finance, fintech, investment banking, international business, international tourism management, management, marketing, human resource management, risk management, business analytics, supply chain and operations management, in addition to our MBA programmes.

Our students are ambitious, highly motivated and of a high calibre, often seeking to further develop knowledge in their chosen field while enhancing their personal and professional development over a one year period.

The University of Nottingham is consistently named as one of the most targeted universities by Britain's leading graduate employers.

Connect with our students

Presentations and events

We offer employers and organisations the opportunity to connect and engage with our students by delivering or attending a virtual or in-person presentation, event or fair throughout the year.

Virtual presentations are a great way to raise awareness of your company and opportunities to our students, especially if you are based outside the UK. We find presentations that give an insight into the company and culture, that cannot be found on the company website work especially well.

Here are some examples:

- Overview of your company, career opportunities and the application process
- Skills session eg, top tips for video interviews, how to stand out as a UK educated returner
- Virtual office tour and/or a day in the life of working for your company
- Q&A session with the talent acquisition team and/or a current trainee

Depending on your objectives and target audience, we can share your event with students across Nottingham University Business School and wider university in the UK and with our overseas campuses in Ningbo, China, and Malaysia. Plus, we work closely with other top UK universities and can share your event to this network, giving you access to an even wider number of students.

Build your organisation's visibility

By taking part in our careers and professional development programmes which take place throughout the autumn and spring terms, you can contribute and take part in a series of lectures and workshops designed to enhance students' professional development and employability, while building your organisation's visibility.

This could include:

- Taking part in and/or delivering a sector insight or labour market panel event eg, Careers in Accounting & Finance in China, how to get a step ahead in the Indian job market
- Delivering interview training, helping with preparing for assessment centres, CV writing, networking, and developing professional skills

Student careers e-newsletters

We send regular e-newsletters to our current students and recent graduates. We are happy to receive relevant graduate roles, events, and articles from organisations to include in these e-newsletters.

Social media

The Postgraduate Careers Team are active on a range of social media channels, including WeChat, LinkedIn and Twitter, which provide an additional platform to share your graduate opportunities and events with our current students and recent graduates.

Promote your opportunities

Vacancy advertising

You can advertise opportunities to our talented students and alumni at no cost, via our university-wide online vacancy service, MyCareer.

Target specific groups of students with relevant vacancies

We can target appropriate Business School Postgraduate students who have the skills and language skills that you, the employer is looking for. If you are looking to recruit experienced talent we can advise on the skills and experience of our MBAs.

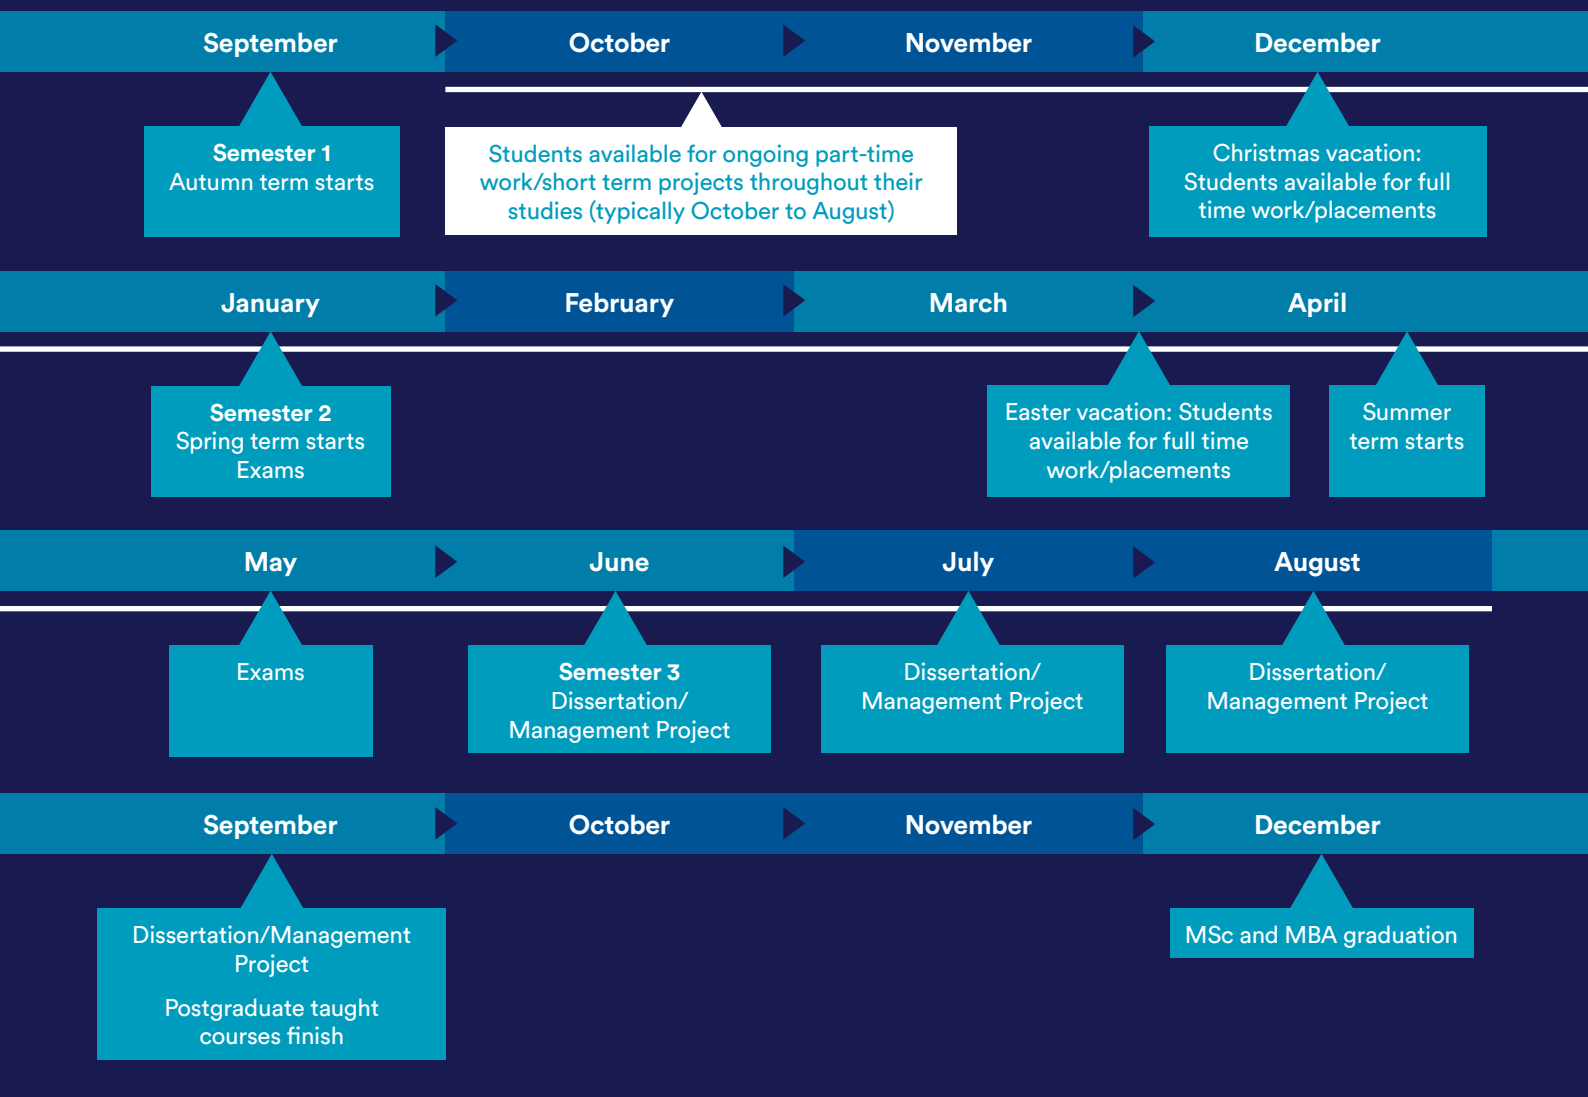

This list is not exhaustive, and we can customise campaigns and events according to your preferences.
