Welcome to the Nursing and Midwifery Careers Fair 2018

Your Careers team have organised today’s fair but the support and guidance doesn’t end here.

We can give you one-to-one advice and coaching on all aspects of your career from finding part-time work, internships and placements to further study, concerns about whether your course is right for you, and life after graduation. We can also review your CV and applications, and help you prepare for interviews. All appointments are person-centred, confidential and non-judgemental.

It’s easy to book a one-to-one appointment with a member of our team. Simply:

1. Sign in to My Career using your usual university login details: nottingham.ac.uk/careers/login
2. Select ‘make an appointment’
3. Choose what type of appointment you want (choosing between ‘CV review’, ‘application support’, or ‘career guidance’ for all other topics) and book

If you can’t find an appointment time that suits you or would prefer to see someone at Royal Derby, get in touch with Abi Rowse at abigail.rowse@nottingham.ac.uk. Skype and telephone appointments are available.

An introduction from the School of Health Sciences

The University of Nottingham is a pioneer in nursing and midwifery education. As one of the largest nursing and midwifery schools in the UK, we offer innovative courses informed by powerful research and delivered by high-quality teachers in an inspiring environment.

As a graduate of the University, there has never been a more exciting time to be in nursing and midwifery. If you know which career path you wish to take, please make the most of this fair by speaking to key employers and attending the relevant talks.

If you are undecided about how you would like to use your degree, please take this opportunity to find out about different career paths and the further training in speciality areas.

We are delighted to welcome around 40 employers – more than ever before – and would like to take this opportunity to thank all those exhibiting and delivering presentations.

I hope this will be a successful and useful event for you and help to springboard you into an exciting career in the nursing and midwifery professions.

Professor Jo Lynn
Head of the School of Health Sciences

We also have plenty of online resources to support you including:

- application forms: nottingham.ac.uk/careers/nursingmidwiferyapplications
- interview advice: nottingham.ac.uk/careers/nursinginterviews
- the ‘Careers for Nursing Students’ Moodle course

If you’re considering further study instead of going straight into employment, have a look at nottingham.ac.uk/careers/furtherstudy

We hope that you leave the fair feeling inspired and informed about your future career options. If you need anything else from us either during your course or even after you’ve graduated, get in touch.

Your Careers Team

How to make the most of your fair

Spend your time wisely

As you register, you will be given a coloured sticker to represent your course.

- Adult nursing – yellow
- Child nursing – purple
- Mental health nursing – green
- Midwifery – orange

Each organisation has coloured flags matching this code, to tell you which fields they’re recruiting to.

Make a great first impression

As you talk to different organisations, remember to be polite, friendly and interested. Carefully consider what information you want to gather. Aim to speak to a mixture of organisations: those you’ve been thinking of for a while and others which are new to you.

Get insights from experts

Try to get to at least one of our inspiring careers talks. These are all delivered by experts, cover a range of careers topics in detail, and last 20-26 minutes. Find the full programme overleaf.

Take time to reflect

After the fair, reflect on what was useful, who you are considering applying to, and whether your plans have changed. Consider making an appointment with someone from our team if you want further support with applications, advice and guidance – see opposite page for more detail.
Career talks programme

It’s never too early to kick-start your career planning, and our programme of talks will help you do just that. Join experts from across practice areas to get insights into career paths that you’re interested in – and maybe those you haven’t even considered yet.

Become a nurse in the Army and make a crucial difference to the lives of soldiers and civilians at home and abroad. Experience situations you’ve never encountered in a civilian career and enjoy everything that Army life offers. Army regular and reserve nurses serve all over the world alongside each other treating battlefield casualties on operations or responding to humanitarian crises overseas as part of a team. Whether you work full-time or part-time you’ll develop professional knowledge that could substantially benefit your career.

Black Country Partnership Foundation Trust and Dudley and Walsall Mental Health NHS Trust

Both trusts offer successful student nurses awaiting their pin (for a staff nurse role) top of band 4 transitional practitioner role which we start their preceptorship in.

Cambridgeshire and Peterborough NHS Foundation Trust

Once you have received your registration you will then be working as a Band 5 Nurse on the preceptorship programme. At CPFT we are dedicated to providing high-quality care. We deliver many of the NHS services that are provided outside of hospital and in the community. We are a health and social care organisation, offering lots of services, including:

- integrated physical and mental health services for adults and older people
- specialist mental health and learning disability
- children and young people’s mental health
- children’s community
- social care
- ground-breaking research

We offer an excellent preceptorship programme for newly qualified nurses, entering NHS employment for the first time. It has been designed to assist in your transition from student to healthcare professional.

Application advice: Find out more at ouh.nhs.uk/working-for-us/nursing-midwifery

Nursing and midwifery at Oxford is an exciting and dynamic place to be a clinician, researcher, educator or leader but is only as innovative as the people in our amazing teams. While providing evidence-based individualised caring is core to everything we do, we are also deeply committed to caring for and developing each other. We also aim to be the best at what we do through our research and innovation initiatives and partnerships and rather than just say we're the best, we aim to prove it.

Binding all of these commitments together for the future together is our pioneering participation in the Magnet Recognition Program.
