

ATSUYOSHI MOROZUMI

School of Economics, Sir Clive Granger Building
University Park, Nottingham
NG7 2RD
United Kingdom
Phone: +44 (0)115 84 67847
Email: Atsuyoshi.Morozumi@nottingham.ac.uk

Appointment:

- Assistant professor in macroeconomics, University of Nottingham, September 2009-Present

Education:

- PhD in Economics (2010), University of Warwick, UK
- MSc in Economics (2004), University of Warwick, UK
- BSc in Economics (2002), University College London, UK

Research Fields:

- Economic growth
- Fiscal policy
- Finance and macroeconomics
- Education economics

Relevant Positions:

- Visiting scholar, Ministry of Finance, Japan: June 2017-May 2023
- Visiting scholar, International Monetary Fund, US: September 2019, January 2019, April 2016, July-August 2012

Publications:

- Public Spending and Growth: The Role of Government Accountability, European Economic Review 89, October 2016, Pages 148-171, with Francisco J. Veiga,
- Public Spending Reallocations and Economic Growth across Different Income Levels, Economic Inquiry 55, January 2017, Pages 98-114, with Santiago Acosta-Ormaechea
- Political Budget Cycles and Media Freedom, Electoral Studies 45, 2017, Pages 88-99, with Francisco J. Veiga and Linda G. Veiga
- Political Budget Cycles: Conditioning Factors and New Evidence, in Oxford Handbook of Time and Politics, ed. by Klaus H. Goetz, Oxford: Oxford University Press, May 2019, with Linda G. Veiga and Georgios Efthymoulou
- Inflation Targeting and Monetary Policy in Ghana, Journal of African Economies 29, March 2020, Pages 121-145, with Michael Bleaney and Zakari Mumuni
- Accountability in Education and Recognition of Bullying, Public Policy Review 16, September 2020, with Ryuichi Tanaka and Shun-ichiro Bessho
- Inflation Targeting in Low-Income Countries: Does IT Work?, Review of Development Economics 24, November 2020, Pages 1529-1550, with Michael Bleaney and Zakari Mumuni
- The Value-added Tax and Growth: Design Matters, International Tax and Public Finance, 2021, with Santiago Acosta-Ormaechea

Working papers:

- Sectoral Heterogeneities in Returns to Scale and Price Rigidity (with Mohamed Diaby)
- Should School-Level Results of National Assessments Be Made Public? (with Ryuichi Tanaka)
- Bankruptcy Costs, Idiosyncratic Risk, and Long-Run Growth (with Santiago Acosta-Ormaechea)
- When Are Fiscal Deficits Inflationary in Low-Income Countries? (with Michael Bleaney and Zakari Mumuni)
- Institutions and Public Investment as a Fiscal Stimulus

Research visits:

- University of Tokyo, Japan: December 2020-January 2021, July-September 2020, November 2019, July-August 2019
- International Monetary Fund, US: May 2017
- World Bank, US: April 2017
- Ministry of Finance, Japan: April 2017
- University of Minho, Portugal: September-October 2014

Refereeing:

- Electoral Studies, Emerging Markets Finance and Trade, FinanzArchiv/Public Finance Analysis, Journal of African Economies, Journal of Economic Behavior and Organization, Macroeconomic Dynamics, Review of Development Economics, Review of Economic Dynamics, Review of International Economics, Scottish Journal of Political Economy, The World Economy

Teaching:

- University of Nottingham
  - Monetary economics (2nd year undergraduate, 2015-2021)
  - Advanced monetary economics (3rd year undergraduate, 2011-2014)
  - International money and macroeconomics (3rd year undergraduate, 2009-2021)
  - International macroeconomics (Postgraduate, 2009-2021)
  - Writing economics (1st year undergraduate, 2016-2018)
- University of Warwick
  - 2008-2009: Economics 1 (1st year undergraduate)

Selected publication in Japanese:

- 田中隆一、両角淳良、(2021) 「教員加配と問題行動：家庭経済環境の役割」 『日本経済研究』 (English title: The additional allocation of teachers and classroom problems: The role of households' economic environment, with Ryuichi Tanaka)