UNESCO Chair Ningbo Office

The School of Education and English (EDEN) at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Science (FHSS), University of Nottingham Ningbo China will host the Ningbo Office of the UNESCO Chair in International Education and Development (SGD 4).

The UNESCO Chair Ningbo Office works in collaboration with the UNESCO Chair based in the School of Education at the University of Nottingham UK to “advance knowledge and practice in an area of common priority”. Through this collaboration and partnership with other higher education and research institutions, we hope and aim to address critical local and global challenges and to contribute to the development of their societies through research, teaching, policy-making and related outreach activities.

UNESCO Chair Ningbo Office is setting up a scheme that can enable you to associate your projects with the work of UNESCO. As part of the UNESCO Chair Project Scheme, your work will be publicized on the UNESCO Chair Ningbo Office website and in its reports to UNESCO.

UNESCO Chair Ningbo Office invite you to be part of the scheme through your research and activities that involve but are not limited to the following areas:

- Lifelong learning
- Education in rural areas
- Continuous professional development
- Multilingualism
- Internationalization and international partnership
- Community engagement for good
- Forced migration
- TVET & higher education
- Educational leadership
- Diversity and inclusion in education
