2018 Teaching and Learning Conference
Digital Learning: engage, enthuse, inspire

Contribution Review Process

All potential contributions are subject to peer review.

Reviewers will be asked to comment on the following:

- Relevance to the conference theme
- Contribution to academic debate
- Link to teaching and learning
- Potential to further the development of innovative practice
- Potential to facilitate engagement of conference delegates
- Use of theoretical or conceptual frameworks that will interest or be of use to conference delegates
- Demonstration of scholarship within the field that conference delegates will benefit from

Once reviews have been completed, notification will be sent through to all individuals or named lead.

Key Dates

Date	Activity
9th February 2018	Contributions submission
12th February 2018	Contributions sent out for review
26th February 2018	Deadline for completed contribution reviews
28th February 2018	Notification of review outcome
6th April 2018	All contributions submitted for uploading to the conference website*

Further instructions for the setting up of posters on the day of the conference will be provided at a later date