Conference Announcement and Call for Papers 22nd Annual GEP/CEPR Postgraduate Conference

University of Nottingham, United Kingdom
11th – 12th April 2024

Objectives

The 22nd GEP/CEPR Postgraduate Conference will take place 11th-12th April 2024 at the University of Nottingham. The conference provides a forum for the dissemination of postgraduate research relating to issues of Globalisation and Economic Policy from both theoretical and empirical perspectives. These areas include Foreign Direct Investment, International Trade, Productivity, Economics of the MNEs, Migration and Labour Market Adjustments.

The objective of the conference is to bring together a number of PhD students and postdoctoral researchers to discuss their research ideas with established researchers in a relaxed atmosphere. Speakers will be selected based on the submitted paper (extended abstracts are acceptable, but preference will be given to full papers).

Submission

Applicants must submit their CV, a letter of support from their PhD supervisor (sent separately by email; this is not required for post-docs) and the paper to be presented. If a full paper is not yet available, please include a detailed abstract clearly providing the motivation for the work, the relationship to the literature, method and research design, and the preliminary (or expected) results.

Every paper accepted for presentation will be assigned a discussant who will present and comment on the paper. Therefore, those who are invited to present are expected to deliver a complete draft at least a week before the Conference.
