

Time Out Function

After logging into MyView, if you do not use it for a period of around 5 minutes, you may see the following message displayed:

This message only displays for a couple of minutes in order to allow you a small amount of time to continue your session or to sign out.

Once the 'Time until automatic sign out' reaches 0, you will automatically be logged out of MyView and will see the following message:

You can obviously log on again if you wish.
