On Tues after Michaelmas 3 Edward III (3 Oct 1329) John of Widmerpool lent 55s. to John Bulli to be paid at Christmas following (25 Dec 1329) on which day John Bulli paid 50s. but did not pay 5s. but detained and still detains. 236 RESPITE Thomas of Hinckley complains of John of Tollerton. John unjustly detains a cart bound with iron (cartam ferri ligatam) worth 14[s.]4d. Daniel of Lincoln, the king's under-bailiff in Nottingham, was assigned by the coroner of the king's household (coronatore hospicii domini regis) on Thurs after Michaelmas (4 Oct 1330) to take the cart for the use of the king at Leicester. Daniel came and took Thomas's cart to John of Tollerton to carry the king's victuals at Loughborough and to return the cart to Thomas of Hinckley on the following Sun (7 Oct 1330); he did not return the cart nor handed it back but detained [and] still detains. Roll 6d

237 RESPITE John of Muston, by attorney, and John Brian, in his own person, executors of Robert atte Barre's will, complain of John Bulli. On Sun before the feast of St Bartholomew 4 Edward III (19 Aug 1330) John [Bulli] came to le Dik and took and carried away Robert's goods and chattels from Robert atte Barre's house against the peace: a bronze pot worth 5s., dung and other goods and chattels to the value of 40s. Damages: 20s. They produce suit. John Bulli comes and defends the force and says he had a pot with (cum) a message after the death of Amicia his sister, as brother and heir of Amicia, and he took the pot in the said message in peace, that the chattels [were] his own and that they pertain to him as Amicia's heir. He says he took no other pot against the peace. Inq. John [of Muston] and John [Brian], the executors, say that he should have no pot as Amicia's heir because Amicia's husband, Robert atte Barre, survived her and that Amicia was not able to have any proprietorial claim (proprietatem) of the chattels from a living Robert. They seek of his cognizance that John [Bulli] claimed to have that pot as Amicia's chattel [as Amicia] was not able to have proprietorial claim of the chattels from her living husband. John Bulli says as to the dung, he took no dung. Inq.
