298 [ENROLMENT To this] court came Thomas Segrave and Margaret his wife, one of the heirs of Godeman Glasiere, and William de Ulkerthorp and Isabella [his] wife, [one of the other] heirs of the said Godeman. They seek a partition of Godman's lands and tenements in Nottingham, Lenton, Sutton Passeys, [and Rad]ford to be read, pronounced and enrolled. [Partition in the form of an indenture] between Thomas Segrave and Margaret his wife, one of the heirs of Godeman Glasiere on the one part, and William Ulkerthorp and Isabella [his wife the other] heir of the same Godeman on the other part, witnesseth that the partition of the lands and tenements that were Godman's in Nottingham, Lenton, [Sutton Pa]sseys and Radford next Lenton at the time of his death and whereof he died seised with the consent both of Thomas and Margaret and [William and] Isabella, was made thus: Thomas and Margaret will have in Margaret's pourparty a messuage on the Pavement (super le Pament), another messuage in Castle Gate (Castelgate), a moiety of 5 cottages in Fisher Gate (le Fischergate), namely that moiety which extends towards the west and similarly ... they will have in Margaret's pourparty all arable lands, meadows, pastures and feedings [in Nottingham], Lenton, Sutton Passeys and Radford. Similarly on the other part William and Isabella will have in [Isabella's pourparty] a messuage in Cow Lane (Coulane), another messuage in Barker Lane (Barkerlane) towards Sneinton with a curtilage called Shepherdryerd, and similarly the other moiety [of the said 5 cottages] with adjacent garden in Fisher Gate, that is, that moiety which extends towards ... Thomas and Margaret will have a moiety of lead (plumbi) in Cow Lane and timber in Shepherdryerd. William and Isabella the other moiety. Finally, William and Isabella will render annually to Beatrix, Margaret's and Isabella's mother, 13d. for Beatrix's life for her dower which came to her from the free tenement in Castle Gate, in Nottingham, Lenton, Sutton Passeys and Radford. Sealing. Nottingham, Thur in Whitsun week 2 Henry IV [26 May 1401]. Margaret and Isabella, according to custom, were examined. They say that they granted and agreed to the indenture of their free wills without pressure of their husbands or anyone else, and consented to the enrolment.
