

History Postgraduate Work in Progress seminars Spring 2020

History Postgraduate Work in Progress Seminars are organised by History postgraduates (both taught and research) for History postgraduates. They offer the chance to develop presentation and research skills, to share your experience, to seek help and advice, and to get to know your fellow postgraduates and their research.

Seminars take place in A01 Humanities, 5-6pm. Tea and coffee provided.

Wednesday 15 January

Making use of Social Network Analysis

Jen Caddick

What am I? Dealing with

Interdisciplinarity as a Historian

Philippa Stazicker

Wednesday 29 January

Working with Databases: Roundtable

Chaired by Jamie Smith

and Natalie Grace

Wednesday 12 February

The Uses of Comparative History

Alex Riggs

How do I use Miraculous Sources?

Handling Late Medieval Miracle Lists

Fred Lloyd Williams

Wednesday 4 March

Romania, the UK and US during the 1970s:

Archival Research

Mihai Hotea

Using a Non-historical Method to Study

History: Language and Medieval Politics

Becca Wheddon

Wednesday 18 March

Commerce in Late Medieval Chester

Pam Powell

The Historian as Archivist: Encountering

Unarchived Sources

Frances Cadd

Wednesday 1 April

A Pun by Lunchtime: Keeping One Foot in the Historical Gravy

Andy Judson

Early Medieval Pub Quiz

Jamie Smith

Any questions?

Email natalie.grace@nottingham.ac.uk or james.smith2@nottingham.ac.uk

Twitter: @UoNHistory\_PGs