

Capturing saved queries and alerts information in NUsearch

In this example three sets of search queries have been saved in NUsearch:

The first two are also set to email an alert if any relevant new items are added to NUsearch.

Click on “Update” if you need to make a note of what alert settings you currently have set up. The following screen will appear with your settings:

The only way to check and record exactly what search you have saved is to click on the “Query name” link and make a note or take a screenshot of the search that is displayed. Three examples are shown on the following pages.
