

Nottingham RSC 2022

Sponsorships

September 2022

RSC Nottingham 2022 would like to thank all financial contributors for their generous donations. We are eternally grateful for the continued support, without which the conference would not have been possible. A complete list of sponsors is given below for anyone interested in learning more about them!

The Heilbronn Institute for Mathematical research

The Heilbronn Institute supports mathematics in the UK through Research Fellowships and sabbatical opportunities for mathematicians and data scientists, and through a programme of conferences, workshops and focused research activities.

<https://heilbronn.ac.uk/>

MAGIC

MAGIC (Mathematics Access Grid Instruction and Collaboration) is a consortium of 22 university mathematics departments in the UK that share live video broadcast, and assessment, of a wide range of PhD-level Mathematics courses.

<https://maths-magic.ac.uk/>

The London Mathematical Society

The London Mathematical Society has, since 1865, been the UK learned society for the advancement, dissemination and promotion of mathematical knowledge. Our mission is to advance mathematics through our members and the broader scientific community worldwide.

<https://www.lms.ac.uk/>

Adelphi Genetics

The Adelphi Genetics Forum is a learned society that aims to promote research and discussion concerning the scientific understanding of human heredity.

<https://adelphigenetics.org/>

