Vitiligo Trial

HI-Light Trial Newsletter

Issue 2 April 2015

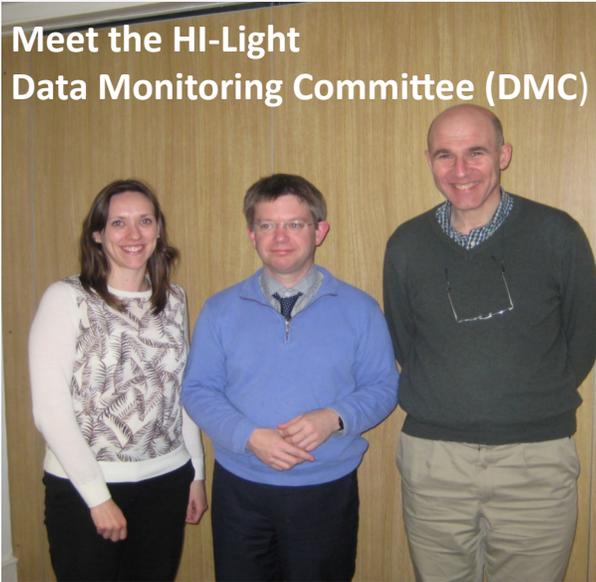

Hello all,

We hope you had a great Easter! It's now less than 3 weeks until the first training session and soon after that the first SIV's will take place! We've been very busy here at NCTU with trial set-up: agreeing Excess Treatment Costs (ETCs) with your trusts, setting up primary care recruitment to support your sites and finalising the databases. This week we will make our first visit to the central pharmacy to train them on sending out the devices and ointment directly to participants. It's a hive of activity here and all together, with your help, we can get this trial up and running on time. You know where we are if you need anything!

Rachel and Jen

Both the TSC and DMC met last month and had really positive meetings!

Meet the HI-Light Data Monitoring Committee (DMC)

Meet the HI-Light Trial Steering Committee (TSC)

ATTENTION ALL PIs—We need your help!

We are in constant contact with your R&D department but we need your help too: your working relationship with people in your trust is invaluable for chasing up contracts, getting approvals in place and confirming finance details.
