Onomastic and topographical sources in English local record offices September 1970: a summary guide

A. R. Rumble (pp. 10–34)

This article is from the Journal of the English Place-Name Society, an annual peer-reviewed journal issued free to members of the Society. The Journal welcomes contributions of articles and notes on subjects of relevance to English place-names.

The English Place-Name Society (EPNS) was established in 1923 to conduct a county-by-county survey of the place-names of England. To date, the Survey has produced more than 90 volumes. Almost all English counties have been surveyed, at least in part, and work to complete the Survey is ongoing. The Survey is used by researchers, academics, and those interested in the origins, meaning, and significance of English place-names.

The research work and the publication of the Survey are financed by the annual subscriptions of members of the Society, with the help of grants from the Arts and Humanities Research Council and the British Academy. Since the progress and success of the Survey depend largely upon the strength of the membership, the Society always welcomes new members, both personal and institutional.

In return for the annual subscription, members receive free of charge the current issue of the Journal as well as the volume of the Survey allocated to that year's subscription. They are entitled to order, in addition, any available volume of the Survey at a concessionary price. Associate Members pay a reduced subscription, for which they receive the Journal.

Annual subscription prices (correct as of August 2022):

Within the UK

£40 (full)

£15 (associate)

Outside the UK

£45 (full)*

£18 (associate*)

*increased prices reflect increased postage cost.

ONOMASTIC AND TOPOGRAPHICAL SOURCES
IN ENGLISH LOCAL RECORD OFFICES
SEPTEMBER 1970: A SUMMARY GUIDE

Since the beginning of the Survey of English Place-Names in 1923 the accessibility of manuscript source-material for onomastic research has increased considerably. The quite recent establishment of local record offices has been a major cause of this increased accessibility. The difference in size and scope between the E.P.-N.S. volumes covering the more recently-surveyed counties and the volumes of the early years of the Survey reflects the Survey's commitment to include in its scheme of research as much as possible of the newly-available material. Once all the English counties have been initially surveyed and published by the Society the work of revising the earlier volumes ought to proceed at full pace, whereas at present it can only take the form of Addenda and Corrigenda published in JEPN. In order to help the planning of the Survey's future work on the counties not yet undertaken, as well as in any future programme of revision an inquiry was instituted in September 1970 into the distribution among the English local record offices of certain classes of manuscripts relating to the various English counties. The results of this inquiry have been tabulated at pp. 18-33 infra.

The main advantage of the present guide for the future researcher should be as an aid to the location of the many onomastically-relevant documents which, because of the sanctity of "the archive group", are not preserved in the record office of the county to which they pertain. The information presented below aims to give a summary indication to the researcher of what counties are covered by the "out-county" holdings of the individual English local record offices so far as certain categories of onomastic and topographical documentation are concerned. Thus he should be able to tell which of the record office holds court rolls for the particular county on which he is working, and which holds early maps, etc. The results of the inquiry are followed (pp. 33-4 infra) by an Appendix containing a short bibliography whose purpose is to supplement that given by the late Professor A. H. Smith in The Preparation of County Place-Name Surveys (E.P-N.S. 1954).

The Course of the Inquiry

The inquiry proceeded by the circulation in September 1970 of a tick-off questionnaire to 207 of the record repositories included in the Historical Manuscripts Commission's handlist Record Repositories in Great Britain (3rd edition, 1968). The major Libraries and the Public Record Office were excluded from the inquiry, as comprehensive published catalogues and calendars exist to aid the researcher there.

Each recipient of the questionnaire was asked to indicate if his repository held certain categories of documents for each of the English counties. The counties were listed vertically¹ and the categories of document horizontally: a tick in the appropriate box formed by the intersection of these two axes indicated that a specific class of document was held relating to a specific county. No attempt to define the quantity of such a holding was attempted, this being felt to be beyond the scope of the present inquiry.

The categories of document specified were those proven by experience to repay considerable attention on the part of the onomastic researcher in local record offices. They were as follows: Deeds to 1700; Court Rolls to 1700; Rentals and Surveys to 1800; manuscript Maps to 1800; Turnpike records; Enclosure Awards; Tithe Awards; and Manorial Accounts (divided into two sections, before 1290 and 1290-1400, before and after the Statute of Westminster II (1285) which considerably changed the form of estate accounting).²

Response to the inquiry was most gratifying and sincere thanks are offered to all those who cooperated by replying to the questionnaire. The details of the response are as follows: 207 repositories circularised: 188 replies (164 positive, 21 with no suitable material, and 3 with no information yet available).

² In the light of the returns to the inquiry it is now thought that the first category of documents, that of Deeds to 1700, should have been subdivided into more than one chronological section: perhaps of Deeds to 1350, Deeds 1350-1500, and Deeds 1500-1700.

The percentage response was thus very high, approximately 90% (188 out of 207).

One conclusion that may be drawn from the inquiry is the confirmation of the necessity of tapping the national resources of research materials for place-name research. The large quantity of "out-county" material preserved in each local record office cannot be ignored if the sources relevant to the preparation of county place-name surveys are to be fully utilised to the improvement of the Survey's published volumes.

In addition to the above records, which can readily be arranged under county-headings, the following should be noted:

- (a) Repository 1 has: Ct a. 1700, Rentals/Surveys a. 1800, Maps a. 1800, Acc a. 1290 and Acc 1290-1400 for various counties, see full list in J. N. Dalton, The Manuscripts of St. George's Chapel (Windsor 1957). Deeds a. 1700 have been included in the analysis supra.
- (b) Repository 66 has: Deeds a. 1700 for some counties (as listed in H.M.C. Reports, and Calendars of House of Lords MSS, q.v.); Estate Acts for the whole country; Maps 1794 onwards for the whole country (in Private Bills); Turnpike Acts; and Inclosure Bills and Acts. M. F. Bond, Guide to the Records of Parliament (H.M.S.O. 1971) should also be consulted.

APPENDIX

A select bibliography is offered below of works that have been found of considerable help in the process of listing, using, and criticising place-name sources. It is intended as a supplement, specifically to help the collector of place-name spellings, to the works of reference listed (pp. 46-9) in A. H. Smith, The Preparation of County Place-Name Surveys (E.P-N.S. 1954), which had a more linguistic bias, being intended as an aid to the editorial process rather than to the collector.
