Academic dress: A brief history

Academic dress has a rich history, evolving from its practical origins to becoming a symbol of achievement and distinction. In the past, hoods were used to cover the head and varied in lining materials based on the season.

Today, the colours and styles of hoods and gowns serve as a visual representation of different levels and subject areas of awards. The colours and styles vary depending on the institution. Since its establishment in 1948, Nottingham has used light blue as its degree colour.

Academic dress

Gowns

Gowns for first and masters degrees are black.

Gowns for doctors are claret, faced to a depth of 3” with light blue silk.

Gowns for higher doctors are scarlet, faced to a depth of 3” with light blue silk.

Hoods

Certificate students wear a hood in the Belfast shape.

Diploma students wear a hood in the Edinburgh shape.

Degree students at all levels wear a hood in the Cambridge shape.

All graduate hoods are bound at the edge with a ribbon of the colour appropriate to the nominal faculty. For higher first and higher masters degrees, the entire hood – including the cape – is bound with ribbon.

She advises multiple AI-based start-ups following three years of her start-up experience, and is a passionate solo traveller.

Nigel Hyde MBE (Economics, 1982)

Nigel is the founder of charities Mission Direct and Home Leone. Mission Direct enables thousands of volunteers to use their holidays for good in the world's poorest nations with an approach of joining people in what they are doing well and mobilising resources to transform lives, building homes, schools, clinics and more. Home Leone's "Destiny" Village is a holistic, sustainable solution to slums in Sierra Leone, providing low-cost affordable homes, growing businesses, education, healthcare and utilities, all supporting skills development. In 2022, Nigel was awarded an MBE for services to international charitable work.

Dr Richard Munang (PhD Environmental Change and Policy, 2008)

Richard is the United Nations Environment Programme's Deputy Regional Director and Africa Regional Climate Change Coordinator, driving Africa's climate resilience, fostering capacity building and stakeholder engagement. He pioneered the Africa Adaptation Gap Report series, providing localised data for policymakers to bridge climate resilience gaps, and developed the first-ever framework, the Ecosystems-Based Adaptation for Food Security Assembly, to mobilise state and non-state actors for climate action in Africa. He has developed a mentorship tool called "Innovative Volunteerism", which has empowered over three million unemployed youth to create profitable enterprises through climate action. Richard's dedication to environmental leadership earned him the UNEP Baobab Programme Innovation Award in 2016.

Professor Andrew Rowland (Medicine, 2000)

Andrew founded the children's charity SickKids, and works clinically between the UK and Cambodia. His work in medicine and expertise in safeguarding children and protecting children's rights have been recognised internationally. He has been awarded a Fellowship and the Pol Roger Prize by The Churchill Fellowship; The Association Medal by the British Medical Association in recognition of his distinguished service to the Association and contribution to medicine; and The Gold Decoration of Honour by the European Union of Medical Specialists to recognise his dedicated work for European Medical Specialists. In 2023, Andrew was appointed as Officer for Child Protection at the Royal College of Paediatrics and Child Health.

Frances Ryan

(Politics and International Relations, 2007)

Frances is a political journalist, author and broadcaster. For the last decade, she has been a columnist and feature writer for The Guardian, focusing on the impact of government policies on low income and disabled people. Her work has featured on the front pages of The New York Times, The Guardian and British Vogue. She has twice been highly commended at The National Press Awards, as well as shortlisted for the Orwell Prize and Paul Foot award. She is the author of Crippled (2019), which was made into the short drama Hen Night for the BBC, and the upcoming Who Wants Normal? (2025).

Dr Medha Tadpatrikar (Business Management Studies, 1990)

Medha is an entrepreneur, writer, TEDx speaker and #ChiefPlasticWarrior. She initially never thought of working in the waste management sector and describes her journey as “an accidental environmentalist”. Medha is the co-innovator and pioneer of the Thermo Catalytic Depolymerization Process in India, which converts thin and traditionally non-recyclable end of life plastic into usable liquid fuel. She has been named one of the top 30 “Women Transforming India”, and has helped collect more than 3.6 million kg of plastic waste and inspired more than 200,000 people to join this movement.

Mike Dilger Botany, 1988

Mike Dilger is an English naturalist, writer, broadcaster and is perhaps best known as the wildlife reporter on the BBC television programme The One Show.

He has presented a number of wildlife programmes, including Wildlife Uncovered: UK, Nature's Top 40 and Nature's Calendar, as well as filing numerous reports for both Springwatch and Inside Out. He is the author of seven nature books, including his most recent book One Thousand Shades of Green, which follows his mission to find a thousand different British plants in a calendar year. He has also presented and contributed to a variety of programmes on BBC Radio 4, including Costing the Earth.

As well as being an experienced presenter and author, he has travelled widely in South America, East Africa and Southeast Asia on ecological expeditions. He has also lived and worked extensively in the tropics, including two years in Ecuador and projects in Peru, Costa Rica, the Philippines, Tanzania and Vietnam.

He is a well-known naturalist who has an encyclopaedic knowledge of the flora and fauna of both Britain and Ecuador and an unparalleled enthusiasm for sharing his passion of the natural world.

Mike Dilger will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Science on Tuesday 18 July 2023.

Ella Carpenter

Ms Ella Carpenter is the Centre Manager at the RSPCA Radcliffe Animal Centre and is committed to education to improve animal welfare in society.

Each year, Ms Carpenter ensures funds are raised to continue running the animal centre, and she has recently been able to complete a multi-million-pound refurbishment supporting further animal care and community education.

The RSPCA Radcliffe Animal Centre is one of the clinical associate practices of the University of Nottingham's School of Veterinary Medicine and Science, providing students with experience in managing a varied caseload in a real working environment.

The Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons accreditation group recently commended Ms Carpenter and her team on their commitment to education in a report based on a visit to the School of Veterinary Medicine and Science.

Ms Ella Carpenter will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on Wednesday 19 July 2023.

Emeritus Professor Michael John Brooks

Emeritus Professor Michael Brooks is a leading international researcher in the artificial intelligence field of image and video understanding at the University of Adelaide. He has published extensively in the area of computer vision and his work in smart video surveillance has attracted international awards and gained wide commercial use. He has held visiting researcher positions at MIT, the University of Oxford and the Fraunhofer Institute.

Professor Brooks has made extensive contributions in research leadership. Over a period of 13 years at the University of Adelaide, he served as Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research), Provost and Interim Vice-Chancellor. He established six of the University of Adelaide's enduring flagship research institutes, progressed key collaborative partnerships with distinguished universities around the world, and contributed to the university's rise in international rankings.

Professor Brooks served on the boards of the South Australian Health and Medical Research Institute, the Women's and Children's Health Research Institute, and National ICT Australia, amongst many others.

He is a Fellow of the Australian Computer Society and a Fellow of the Australian Academy of Technological Sciences and Engineering.

Emeritus Professor Michael Brooks will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Science on Wednesday 19 July 2023.

Dr Margaret Jull Costa

Dr Margaret Jull Costa has been a literary translator for over thirty years, and has translated the works of many Spanish and Portuguese writers, including Javier Marías, José Saramago and Eça de Queiroz, achieving critical acclaim.

Over the years her work has brought her numerous awards, from the International IMPAC Dublin Literary Award for A Heart So White in 1997, to the Premio Valle-Inclán for On the Edge by Rafael Chirbes in 2018, as well as the Times Literary Supplement Translation Prize and the Oxford-Weidenfeld Translation Prize.

In 2013, she was appointed a Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature, and in 2014, she was awarded an OBE in the Queen's birthday honours list for services to literature. In 2018, she was awarded the Ordem do Infante D. Henrique by the Portuguese government and a Lifetime Award for Excellence in Translation by the Queen Sofia Spanish Institute, New York.

Since 2016 she has been an Honorary Professor in Translation Studies in the School of Cultures, Languages and Area Studies at the University of Nottingham.

Dr Margaret Jull Costa will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters on Thursday 20 July 2023.

Dame Helen Ghosh DCB

Dame Helen Ghosh worked in the civil service for more than 30 years, including time in the Department for Housing, Communities and Local Government, Cabinet Office, HM Revenue and Customs, and the Department for Work and Pensions.

From 2005-2010, she was Permanent Secretary at the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs, and from 2010, Permanent Secretary at the Home Office.

While working as a civil servant, she was particularly interested in social exclusion and urban regeneration policies, and in a variety of local and global environmental issues.

Leaving the Civil Service in 2012, she became Director General of the National Trust, and in 2018 took up her role as Master of Balliol at University of Oxford. She was appointed a Dame Commander of the Bath in 2008.

She is a Trustee of the Ashmolean Museum, the Oxford Preservation Trust and the Blackfriars Overseas Aid Trust, among other organisations.

Dame Helen Ghosh will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on Monday 24 July 2023.

Tony Collingridge OBE

Tony Collingridge OBE was appointed Director of Trade and Investment for Malaysia from 2011-2017 and was a member of the University of Nottingham Asia Advisory Board until 2021. He ran his own company, Delta Gate Solutions, in Malaysia from 2017 until 2021, supporting trade and investment between the UK and Malaysia. He is currently an Independent Non Executive Director of Prudential Assurance Malaysia Berhad having previously also been an Independent Non Executive Director of Jardines' Cycle and Carriage Sdn Bhd between 2018 and 2022. Tony has been carrying out commercial work for more than 28 years with a focus on the Asia Pacific Region. Tony was awarded the OBE in 2007.

Tony started his Civil Service career in 1978, spending his early career supporting UK Ministers on energy matters and in Parliament. He was Head of the Asia Pacific, Middle East and Africa Team with UK Trade and Investment from 1999-2006, encouraging companies from the region to invest in the UK. Prior to that he worked as Head of the Australasia team with the UK Government's Overseas Trade Services from 1995-1999, promoting and assisting UK trade with the region.

Mr Tony Collingridge OBE will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on Monday 24 July 2023.

Levison Wood History, 2004

Major Levison Wood is a world-renowned explorer, author and photographer who has written eleven best-selling books and produced several critically-acclaimed documentaries which have been aired around the globe.

He has travelled and filmed in over one hundred countries worldwide, and his expeditions include walking the length of the river Nile, the Himalayas, Central America and the Arabian Peninsula. His most recent television projects have focused on wildlife and conservation.

Levison has served as an Officer in the British Parachute Regiment, where he fought in Afghanistan on combat operations. His military service over 15 years has seen him deploy on five continents.

He has interviewed and photographed some of the most prominent names in the international community, from Hollywood actor George Clooney to King Charles and the Dalai Lama.

He is an elected Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, The Royal Society of Arts and the Explorers Club. He is a UK ambassador for UNICEF and has raised over a million pounds for various charities.

Levison Wood will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on Tuesday 25 July 2023.

Ambassador (ret) Luis C. deBaca

Ambassador Luis C. deBaca coordinated U.S. government activities in the fight against contemporary forms of slavery and, as one of the most decorated federal prosecutors in the U.S., he investigated and prosecuted cases of human trafficking, hate crimes, and police misconduct.

Ambassador C. deBaca negotiated labour and human rights advances, and managed multimillion dollar grant portfolios combating slavery and sexual abuse.

He built his litigation record into policy, incorporating the voices of victims, workers, and the advocacy community into decision making. His teaching and research interests include criminal law, race and slavery, policing, immigration, national security, labour, Indian law, international law, and civil rights.

Following his prosecution career, he served as Counsel to the House Committee on the Judiciary. In the Obama Administration, he served as Director of the State Department's Office to Monitor and Combat Trafficking in Persons and then as the Director of the Justice Department's Office for Sex Offender Monitoring Apprehending, Registering, and Tracking.

Ambassador Luis C. deBaca will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on Tuesday 25 July 2023.

Dr Helen Mary Pain

Dr Helen Pain is the Chief Executive of the Royal Society of Chemistry and is both a Chartered Chemist and a Chartered Scientist.

She joined the Royal Society of Chemistry (RSC) in 1994 and has led many of its strategic functions before becoming CEO in June 2021.

Dr Pain was Chair of the Science Council 2018 – 2021, a UK organisation for the advancement of the science profession, and Chair of the Technician Commitment Steering Board, established to support development of technicians in Higher Education.

She is a champion for the chemical profession and has commissioned campaigns to address inequality in science, to make chemistry more inclusive in schools, and to tackle global sustainability challenges.

Dr Helen Pain will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Science on Wednesday 26 July 2023.

Dr Nigist Asfaw

Dr Nigist Asfaw is Emeritus Associate Professor of Organic Chemistry at the Department of Chemistry, College of Computational and Natural Sciences at Addis Ababa University, Ethiopia. Her research focuses on natural product chemistry in particular on isolation and structure elucidation of natural products from indigenous aromatic and medicinal plants; and green chemistry. She is one of the founders of Green Chemistry in Ethiopia, which aims to design less hazardous chemicals and processes for more sustainable use and production of chemicals.

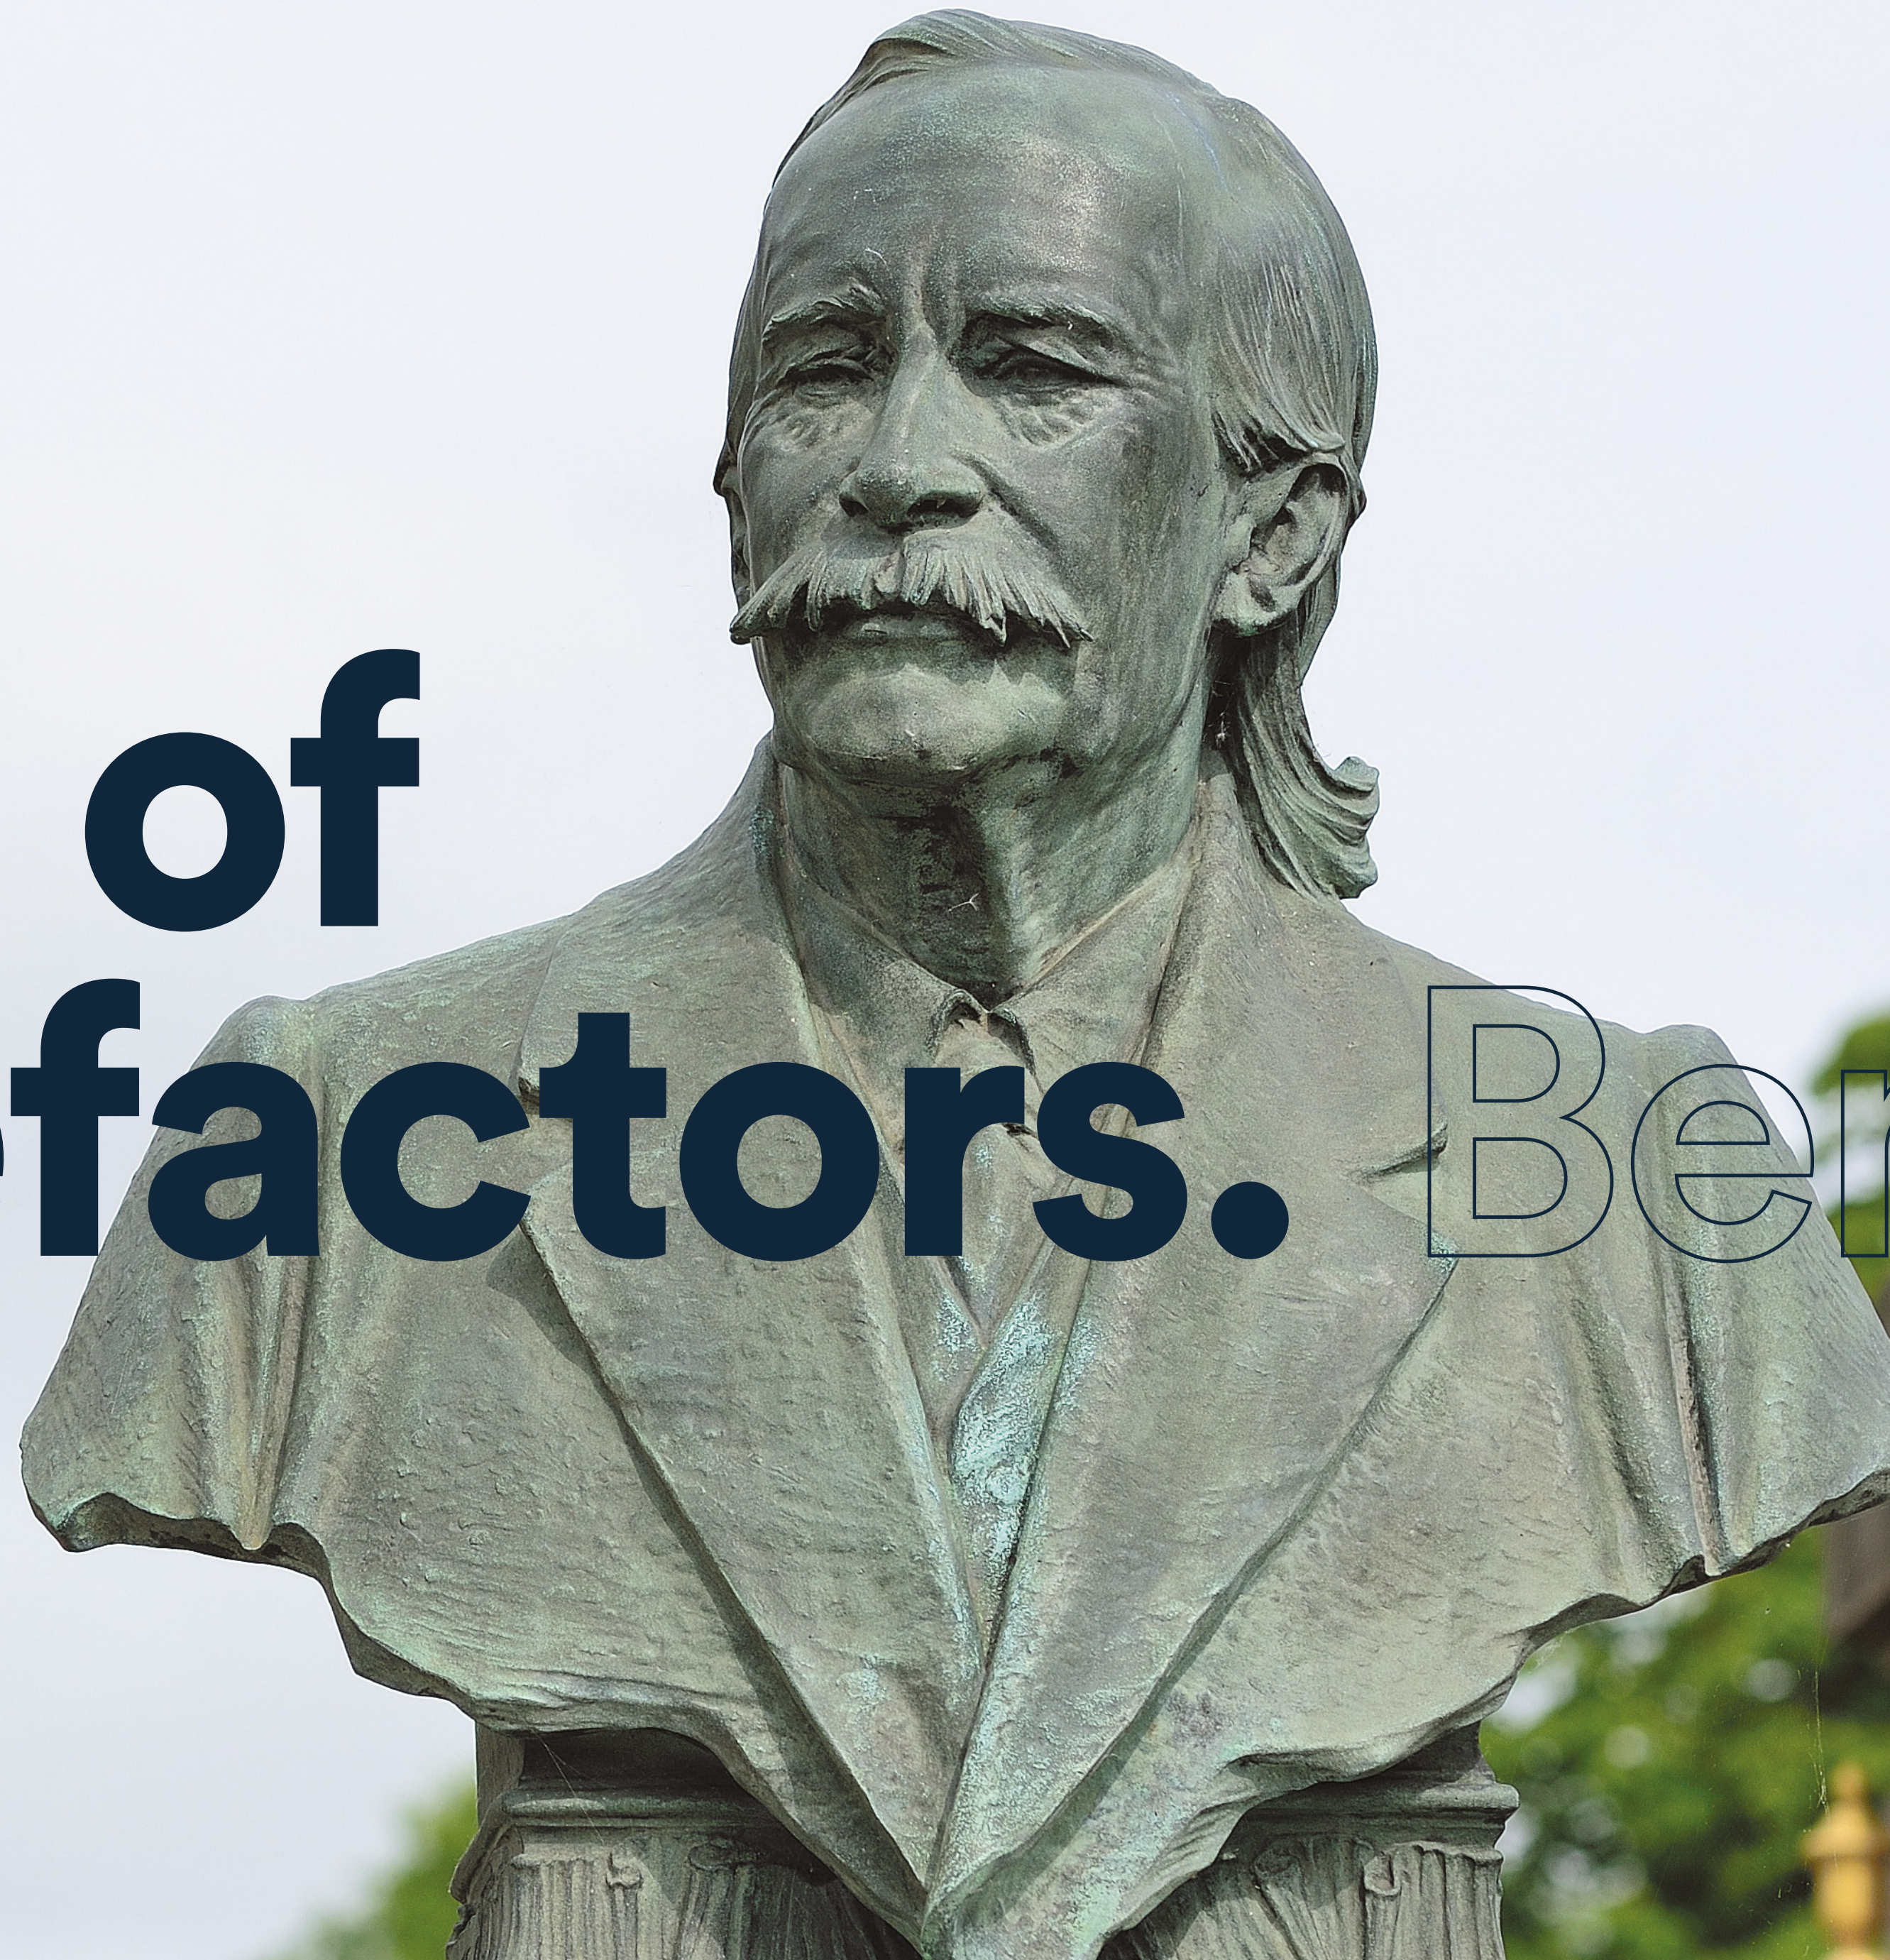

Dr Asfaw has been recognised with numerous international awards and grants, including the 2011 PACN Distinguished Women in Chemistry Award and the 2021 TWAS-Samira Omar Innovation for Sustainability Award. She is Honorary Fellow of the Royal Society of Chemistry (HonFRSC), a founding and board member of both the Federation of African Chemical Societies and the Pan African Chemistry Network (PACN) and also a member of the Green Chemistry Network in the UK.

She was a special lecturer in the School of Chemistry at the University of Nottingham from 2010-2012 and she has a particular interest in promoting green chemistry education in schools.

Dr Nigist Asfaw will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Science on Wednesday 26 July 2023.

of College of
Benefactors. Ber

Our College of Benefactors

The university is deeply honoured to have benefited from the support of over 50 exceptional individuals and organisations which have given transformational philanthropic gifts in support of our innovative research and student experience programmes. These generous donors are drawn from across our global community – including China, Malaysia and the USA – and form our College of Benefactors, an important part of our university's history and future. On 20 July, four new members will be admitted to the College in recognition of their generous support: the Barham Benevolent Foundation, Cobham-Ultra Electronics and Professor Sir David and Lady Greenway.

Since the days of Jesse Boot and the establishment of our University Park Campus 100 years ago, gifts large and small have helped fuel our growth, shape our vision and maximise the impact of our work. Our community of donors and volunteers generously support our students, alumni and staff to realise their full potential and change the world for the better. We offer our deepest thanks to all those who share our vision and support our work. Please join us if you can and shape the world you want to live in.

 bit.ly/support-uon

Barham Benevolent Foundation

Represented by Chair of the Trustees, Michael Cook

The Foundation was founded over a hundred years ago by Express Dairy to support milk roundsmen and others in the dairy industry and is now based in West Sussex. Around ten years ago the Foundation decided to expand its support by awarding educational grants to universities with dairy departments. The Foundation currently supports four other universities.

The university's well-established Centre for Dairy Science Innovation offers the latest research technologies to study a range of dairy-related topics and has been a beneficiary of the Foundation's generosity for a decade. The Foundation's grants are continuing to enable our students and staff to carry out research into the welfare of cows and other dairy-related projects.

The Foundation has five trustees and is today represented by the Chairman, Michael Cook. Michael is a retired solicitor having worked in the City of London for over 40 years where he carried out property and charity work.

Cobham and Ultra Electronics

Represented by Greg Bagwell, Director, Cobham Limited

Cobham and Ultra Electronics are two leading UK aerospace, defence and technology companies which have established the Cobham and Ultra Electronics Scholarship programme to support students from under-represented groups to study engineering here at Nottingham.

This generous support is part of a wider programme across six universities which are recognised both in the UK and globally as leaders in the engineering field.

Cobham and Ultra Electronics' history is steeped in engineering success. They recognise investment in skills and education is key for unlocking future growth, boosting productivity and building the skilled workforce of the future in the UK.

Cobham and Ultra Electronics are represented by Greg Bagwell, Director, Cobham Limited. Greg served for 36 years in the Royal Air Force as a pilot, and retired as an Air Marshal and Deputy Commander of the Royal Air Force. He has been a Director at Cobham Ltd for the last six years, and is also a non-executive Director at NATS (the UK's national Air Traffic Services).

Professor Sir David and Lady Greenaway

Sir David joined the University of Nottingham as Professor of Economics in 1987. He served as Vice Chancellor for almost a decade until 2017, having previously been a Pro-Vice-Chancellor. He also taught in the School of Economics until his retirement.

Sir David was the founding Director of the Nottingham Centre for Research on Globalisation and Economic Policy. His research interests were in trade and labour market adjustment, cross-border investment, and international trade policy. He has held positions on the Armed Forces Pay Review Body, and various NHS Trust and Health Authority Board appointments. He received a Knighthood for services to higher education and contributions to public policy in 2014. Sir David's tenure as Vice-Chancellor encompassed the Impact Campaign, the university's most ambitious fundraising initiative which closed in September 2017 having raised £243 million. As well as his leadership of the Campaign, he and Lady Greenaway contributed personally as donors. Sir David also completed seven 'Life Cycle' challenges, leading a staff team travelling the length and breadth of the UK and Ireland by bicycle and raising some £3 million for the campaign.

Lady Greenaway was born in Nottingham in Strelley and from school went onto Edge Hill Teacher Training College and qualified as a primary school teacher in 1974. Like many others of her generation, she was the first in her family to pursue post-18 education. After 20 years of teaching across the primary sector with a range of management roles and a career break to raise her two sons, Stuart and Daniel, she returned to higher education at the University of Nottingham where she studied an MA in Children's Literature followed by a BA in Fine Arts. When Lady Greenaway returned to work she conducted research, contributed to the development of national literacy and teacher training programmes, and lectured in primary education until her retirement in 2015.

Lady Greenaway has been a committed ambassador for both the city and the university supporting development work in Nottingham, China and Malaysia. She has established several endowments to support Foundation level Arts students and career development programmes for female staff in China and Malaysia.

James Horsburgh

MEng Hons Chemical Engineering

James is a graduating MEng student from the Department of Chemical and Environmental Engineering during which time he undertook an industrial placement year as part of his studies. Within his integrated masters year he has completed research studying carbon capture technologies.

Throughout his time at the University of Nottingham, James has been engaged with student volunteering within the Students' Union. He has been a passionate committee member of the university's student-led fundraising and volunteering organisation, Karnival, serving as the Treasurer and Social Secretary. He has also been integral to the Welcome Programme where he worked as the Programme Coordinator, assisting in the planning and delivery of orientation week for new students. Most recently, James has been appointed as a student trustee of the Students' Union where, as part of the board, he oversees the governance and overall strategy of the Students' Union.

Julia Ward

Chemical Engineering MEng, 2014

Julia is a Chartered Engineer with the IChemE and graduated with two first-class degrees from the University of Cambridge (2020) and the University of Nottingham (2014). Julia currently works at Queequeg Renewables Ltd as a Senior Project Manager where she is responsible for the development and construction of the UK renewable solar, battery, wind and hydrogen projects. Julia is a longstanding advocate of women in engineering and as a result has founded her own charity FLISS: Female Leaders In STEM Subjects, for the advancement and development of women in STEM through mentoring, as well as promotion of diversity and inclusion in our workforce.

Olivia Conroy
BA Hons English, third year student

My name is Olivia, and I am a graduating BA English student from the University of Nottingham this year. I started my time here on Jubilee Campus during the Covid pandemic, attending online lectures and seminars. Just as quickly as I moved here, I left Nottingham, embarking on a semester at the University of Zürich. I returned for my final year with new roles as Creative Director of Nottingham Students' Television (NSTV) and as a Brand Ambassador for the marketing team at UoN Sport. Not without its challenges, my goal throughout has been to make the most of my time here. Volunteering, winning NaSTA Awards, covering sporting events, and completing my degree are examples of giving my all in everything. I have made lifelong friends at UoN and am excited to take the skills I have learned here into the future.

Sean Nolan

BSc Hons Psychology graduate, University of Nottingham Students' Union Sports Officer

My name is Sean (he/him) and I am the Sports Officer in the Students Union here at the University of Nottingham. As a Psychology graduate during the Covid years, I know what it is like trying to settle into a new home when it feels like everything is going against you. As Sports Officer, I now dedicate my time to creating a sporting environment that is welcoming to everybody, with particular focuses on mental health and EDI culture. When I graduated last year, it was the proudest day of my life – not because I finally got to hold my degree, but because it meant I had overcome challenges.

Dr Waiel Elmadih
MSc Manufacturing Engineering and Management, 2020

Waiel Elmadih is a Director and Project Manager with a PhD from the University of Nottingham. He works at Taraz Metrology, managing the development of advanced measurement instruments. Waiel's meticulous project management ensures high-quality implementation of cutting-edge technologies.

He also founded Metamaterials Ltd, a venture focused on practical applications of metamaterials, and has received recognition from the Royal Academy of Engineering and grants from INNOVATE UK for his expertise and projects.

Waiel is known for his approachable nature and dedication to mentoring aspiring researchers, actively engaging with students and collaborators.

Graduation video credits

We hope you liked the video that played at the start of your ceremony. The spoken word piece is performed by Class of 2020 graduate Nana-Yaw Mensah and the scenes feature students, staff and alumni from across the globe. The concept and film production is by Fat Free Media. Thanks to everyone for taking part and supporting.
