

Our service

Our companion animal post-mortem prices include: gross (visual) post-mortem and histopathologic examination (H&E), basic disposal costs and reporting. The Pathology Service is an academic teaching unit that involves teaching in veterinary pathology. The University, therefore, subsidises all fees. Cases that exclude student involvement at the request of the referring vet will incur higher costs. Further tests, including bacteriology and services external to the SVMS, will be charged accordingly, subject to prior agreement with the referring vet. A preliminary report will be submitted within two working days, and a final written report within 4 to 6 working weeks. Questions about anticipated reporting times or other matters can be sent to veterinary-pathology@nottingham.ac.uk
